ISO 27001:2013

ISO/ IEC 27001:2013 specifies requirements for Information technology, Security techniques and Information security management systems as tailored to the Organisation.

Maharashtra Pollution Control Board has a State-of-art Data Centre that caters to its computerized offices processes with its Integrated Management Information System (IMIS) project. The IMIS project offers data connectivity to all its Offices across Maharashtra connected through MPLS-VPN connectivity. The Data Centre is secured through well configured Firewall and antivirus measures. The project has also stepped into enhancing its web portal with more software modules catering to Ease of Doing Business (EoDB) reforms with Industries. Moreover, IMIS is integrated with ePayment gateway. All this internal and external connectivity implies strong security measures to be taken for security of Information flow.

This has prompted the Board to get certified with ISO 27001: 2013. Thus, with this certification requirement, all regulations for the security of the Data Centre have been scrupulously followed and optimum quality management of Information and its security are very well achieved.
